A. INTRODUCTION

Education in Indonesia is in line with National Education objectives, has an orientation to produce a broader generation (knowledgeable) through optimizing every potential learners and forming human beings of character as well as having faith, noble character, physical and spiritual health, independent, creative, democratic and responsible answer.

The paradigm of today's Indonesian society, seeing the western state as a developed country, when western culture entered Indonesia, some societies were unable to filter out the outside cultures that contradict the prevailing cultural values in Indonesia. In this case, it is clear that the effect can have a negative impact on learners both from their attitude and behavior. This is in line with Judiani's opinion in his research on the implementation of character education in elementary school that, "Learners at the present time, have no manners, likes brawl, liquor, narcotics, and racing on the highway".¹

The above phenomenon suggests that character education is very urgent to apply especially in Early Childhood Education to Primary Schools, as learners of this age, need moral education that can translate abstract principles of right and wrong, in order to be preventive in overcoming attitude and behavior problems on the scope of education. This is in line with Hurlock's opinion that, "Moral development in early childhood is still at a low level, so it has not been able to apply abstract principles of right and wrong."²

Character education in elementary schools, should get more attention to form the noble moral foundations of strong learners. This is done, so that learners have awareness about the importance of good values and have a commitment to always do good on the next education and in everyday life.

Optimization in education, will shape the personality of good learners in sorting and choosing relationships, actions, and actions in accordance with applicable norms. This, it gives a positive impact for future generations in order not easily influenced outside culture and the environment is not good. The implementation is expected to be able to print the leading generation for Indonesia gold in 2045 which transformed Indonesia into advanced and dignified.

Based on the results of interviews with principals and teachers of state primary school 5 Sindangkasih, the following data are obtained: principals and teachers argue that today, learners prefer outside cultures rather than their own culture in terms of clothing, behavior, or language used. Learners often buy snacks during break times outside school, and immediately play after school home without going home first to ask permission parents and change school uniforms. This becomes a dilemma for the school and parents, because in recent times there are rampant cases of kidnapping children and drug sales through food favored learners, so it is necessary to implement character education that is able to preventive in addressing the character problems in state primary school 5 Sindangkasih.

In the implementation of character education, each school has its own school culture, which is the hallmark of its school. In this case, the research will be conducted in state primary school 5 Sindangkasih which implements character education with school culture which emphasizes the development board of ministry of education and culture, 2010), p. 280 education in school activities

Character education is a teaching done to inculcate habituation about the good so that learners understand, able to feel, and want to do good.⁴

Education of moral values relates to the efforts of a person (educator) in realizing a virtue, namely the creation of good humanitarian quality for society as a whole.
In line with that opinion, Rukiyati & L.
Andriani in research model of character education based on local wisdom explained that, "Character education is an effort to guide human behavior toward life values".⁵

Education to shape the learner's personality focuses on ethical goals, but in practice involves strengthening learners' abilities that include their social development. In this case, Buchori and Tulus interpret character education as "Education that develops the cultural values and character of the nation in the students themselves, so that each learner has value and character as his character, and apply those values in his life as a member society, and citizens who are religious, nationalist, productive, and creative ".⁶
